RIDE THE GAME, RULE THE FRAME

A filmmaker‘s deep understanding of the sport is crucial, enabling them to anticipate movements and moments that truly matter.
This synergy between the filmmakers perspecti-ve and skilled athletes transforms footage into a dynamic story of the sport.
It‘s about really getting into the sport‘s vibe to tell a story that‘s both engaging and authentic.

THIS IS WHERE WE COME FROM.

20 years ago, Mischfabrik started producing films as a ski crew

Sometimes, the office is declared a no-go zone. This means that it‘s time for a company outing into the powder to re-charge our batteries and top up our energy, energy that we need for our next shoot in the mountains: “Snow is our drug of choice!”

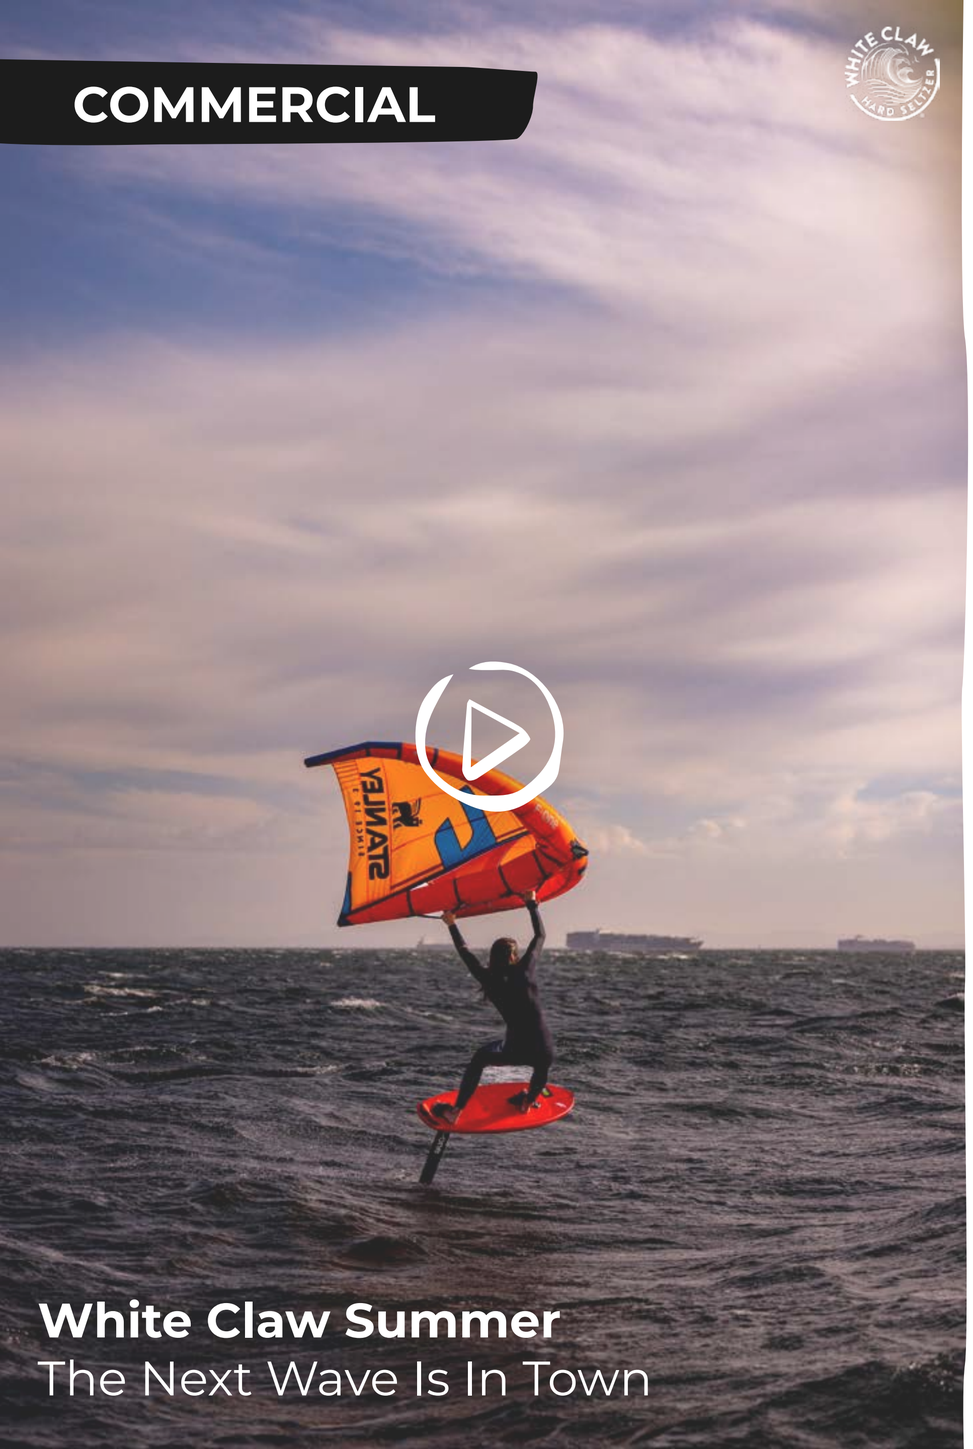
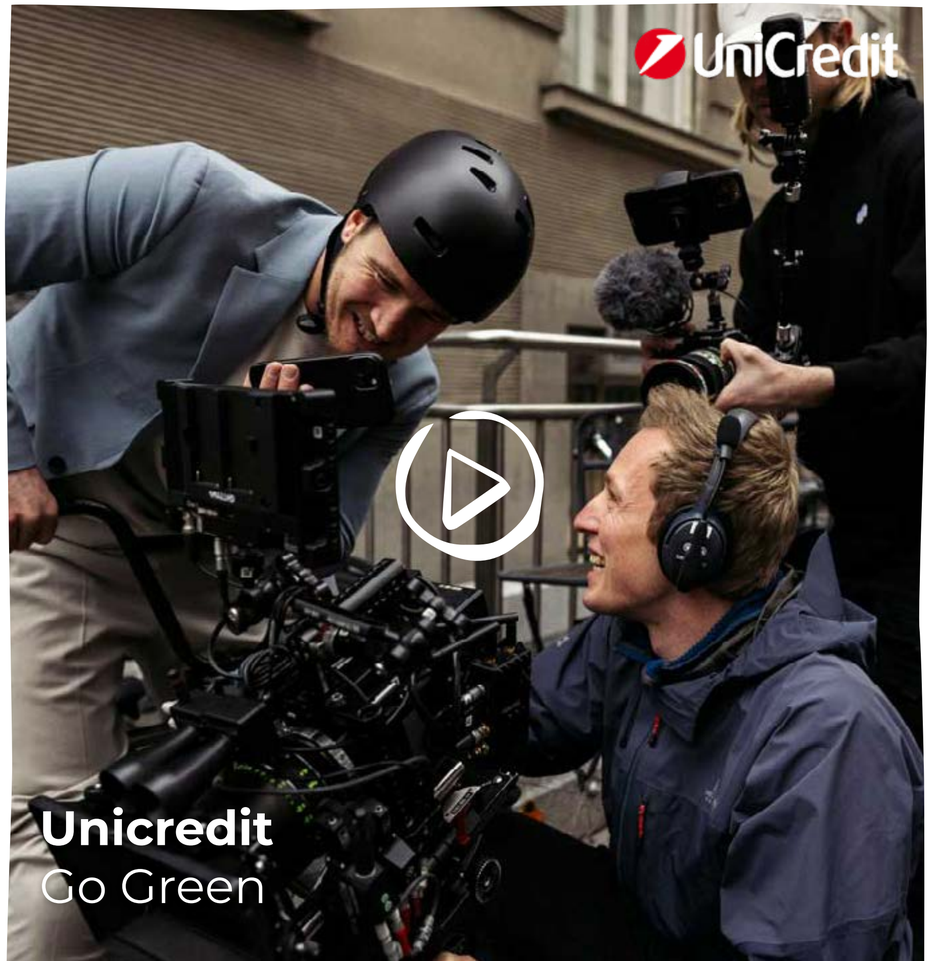
ROCK THAT SHIT

No matter how. We're always on top of the rocks. Sometimes it's mountaineering and climbing - on other days we're freeriding or paragliding! And that's the spirit we want our films to show too.





SWEAT NOW, SHINE LATER

With our in-house director and DoP duo, we‘re set and ready for your project.

During the last 10 years we‘ve had the chance to work with major international agencies such as Jung von Matt and VCCP London. Combined with clients like BMW, Skoda and Red Bull we were able to gather the experience needed to welcome every new challenge with open minds and are ready to strengthen your brand with our out-of-the-box-mentality.

SAME SAME - BUT DIFFERENT!

The recipe for successful tourism ads is both simple and effective:

Perfect weather, perfect conditions, and perfect people having the ‘time of their lives’.
The downside: if you change the logos, these videos can be used for almost any region.
So maybe a perfect world doesn‘t leave a lasting impression… but that’s where we come in!

Grit and Grind

Real emotions only come with real effort.
The athletes have to give it their all.

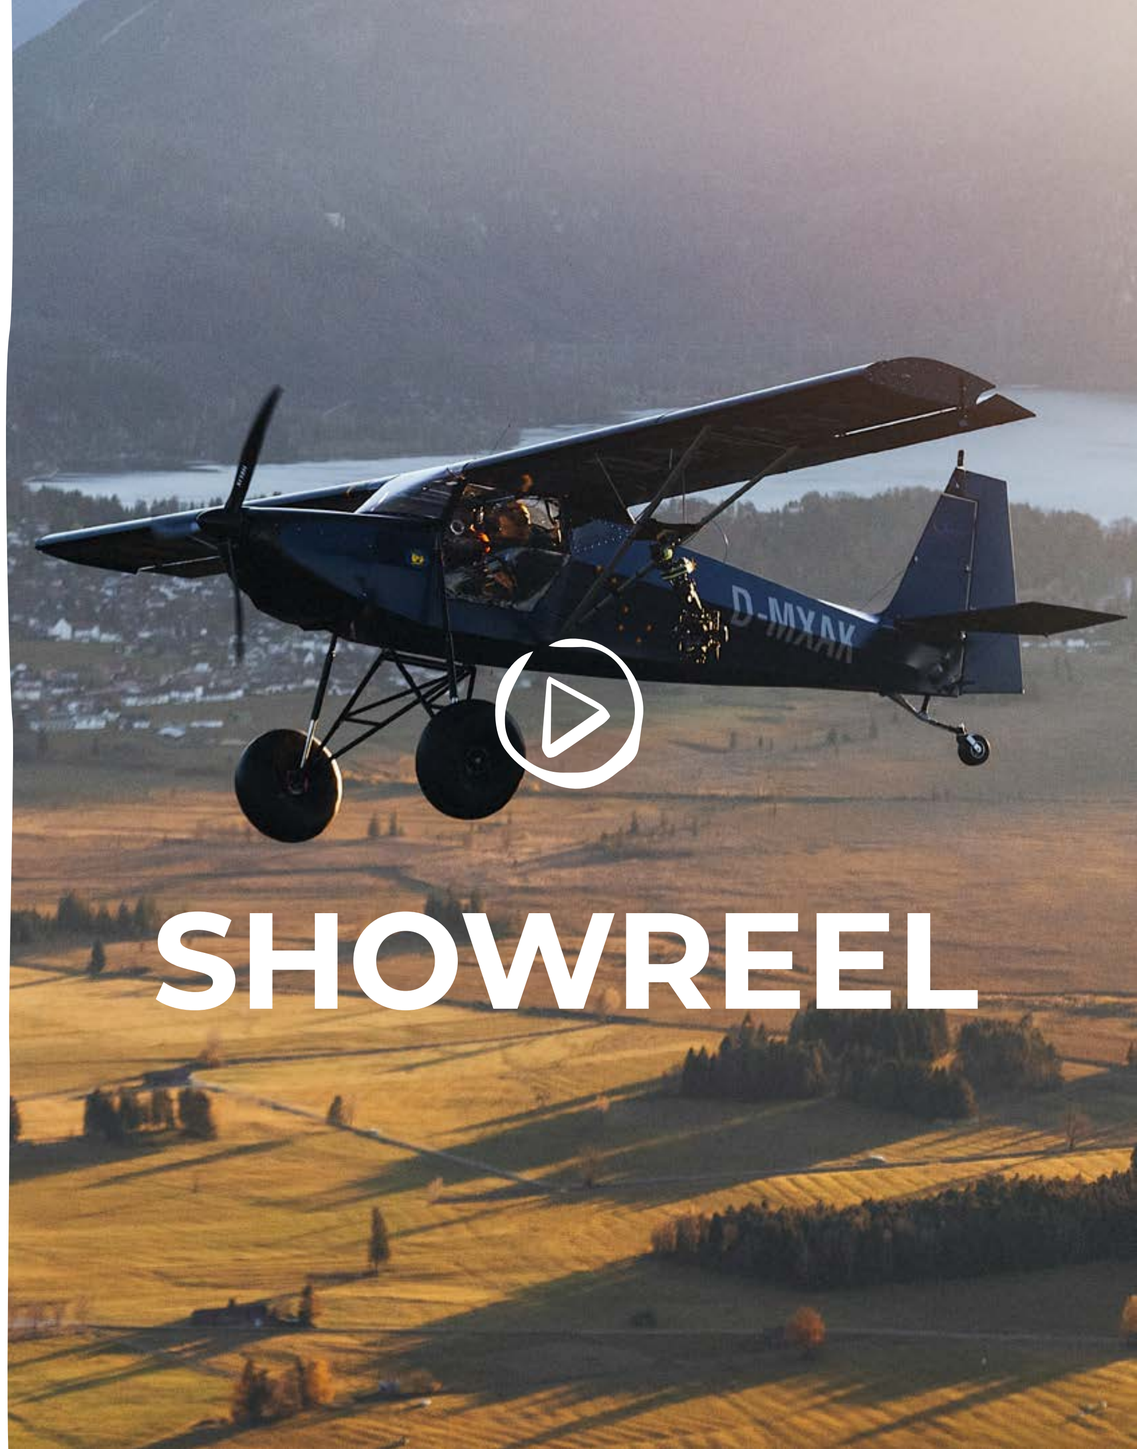
Affordable aerial cinematography

We are opening up a completely new and unknown field of aerial cinematography with our camera system on a light aircraft. Reducing the cost to a fraction of the normal helicopter prices combined with the high flexibility makes it ideal for many productions!

Over the last years we have developed a new system for film and photo flights, which is hardly inferior to the well-known helicopter systems. With self-developed parts, countless test flights and projects, we can now offer aerial filming in cinema quality at an affordable price.



CINEPLANE

Our newest project is going airborne. After struggling with helicopter prices for years, we've taken a new path: We developed our own camera mounting platform and have now built a system for affordable cinema quality aerial video and photo content. Hit us up if you need anything.

WHY US?

WE'RE BORN FOR THIS

With experience across a big range of productions from scripted athlete projects to documentaries and events, we've learned one key lesson:

Plan as best as you can, but always be ready to adapt on the fly

WHY US

BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

We’re comfortable with both big, high-quality commercial productions and one man fast-paced, run-and-gun shoots. Combining these two worlds is what really shapes our style and makes us stand out.

OUT-OF-THE-BOX THINKERS

We’re full of ideas just waiting to be brought to life. Now’s our chance to turn those into reality and push creative boundaries like never before!

WE‘RE TECH GEEKS

seriously

We’re always on top of the latest tech, making sure everything we create is future-proof. Whether it‘s Netflix-approved cameras, special niche gear or VR production, we’ve got the know-how to stay ahead.

WHY US

WE'VE GOT YOUR BACK

We are able to manage every step of production in-house. Whatever the project needs, we've got it all covered. You're free to jump in and take control of any part, but the thing is: it's completely optional.

SMOOTH SAILING

We're highly organized and know all the workflows and technical requirements needed to collaborate seamlessly with Media House - ensuring no surprises or headaches along the way. We're also keeping the current record of the most first pass QCs, so that's something.

YOUR DATA IS SAFE

We take data security seriously, with triple backups in different locations, so nothing ever gets lost. Our file and asset management is top-notch, making sure everything is organized and easy to access when you need it.

DIRECTOR

DIVING IN

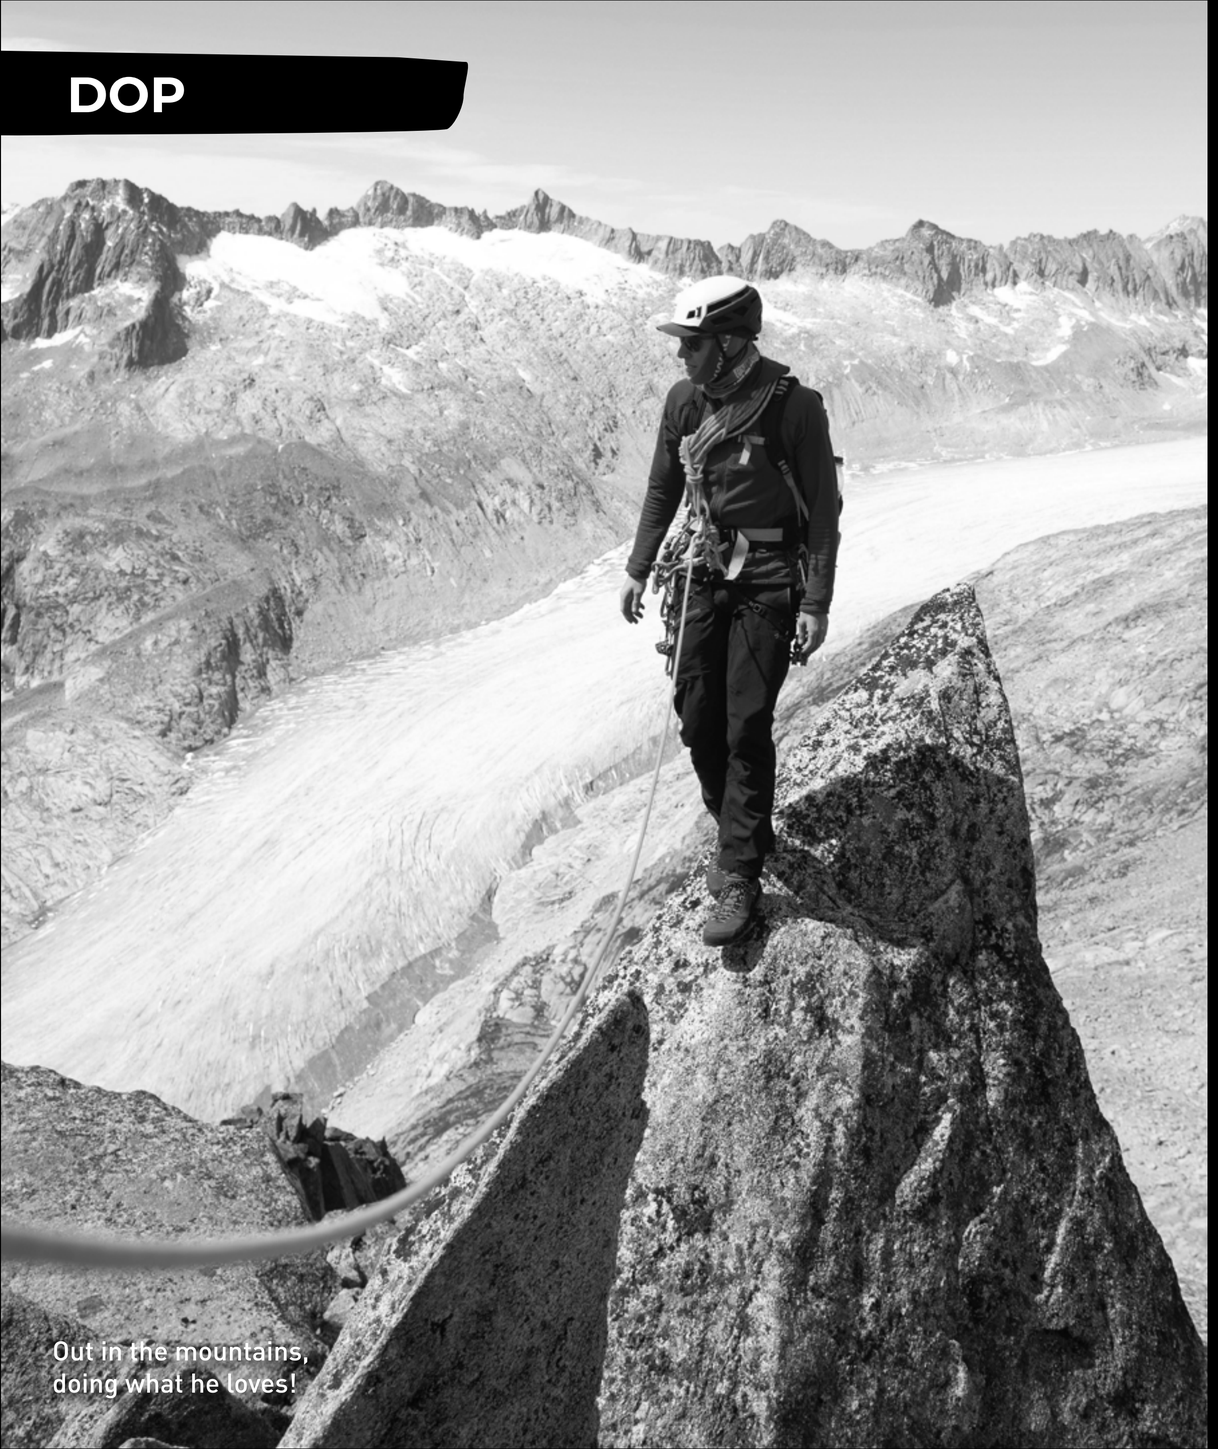
CREATIVE. BRILLIANT. INVISIBLE.

“Hello. You’ve reached the voicemail of Simon Thussbas […]” Simon can really immerse himself—and not just in the joys of snowboarding.What can sometimes be extremely annoying for his colleagues is actually one of his greatest strengths: When he does something, he does it right!

But perhaps this is the only way to organize the creative madness that plays out in Simon’s mind and transform it into a form that everyone can understand.

In addition to his creative outpourings, Simon is also our Director of Photography (DOP) and the man responsible for everything that goes on behind the camera during film shoots. As such, if you ever find that you can’t get hold of him, please don’t hesitate to contact Julia, Benny or Daniel instead…

There’s something on your face! After 2 weeks with Fabi Lentsch (Snowmads) on the glacier in Georgia, everything is frozen.



Out in the mountains,
doing what he loves!

A GENIUNE ALLROUNDER

DANIEL IS LIVING THE MOUNTAIN LIFE ON A NEW LEVEL

Whether its running in the mountains to fly down before work or hitting some MTB trails in the summer, he lives for the outdoors.

With a wide range of skills and experience in many different sports, he broadens the company's skillset and takes his filming and photography to another level.

He will do whatever it takes to get the shot, whether that means using a gimbal on skis or skates, or going underwater to capture unique perspectives.

His hidden talent is being able to put Simon's brainstorming ideas into words - but sometimes they just end up pushing each other towards increasingly crazy and unusual ideas.
